UNIT- 1 A HOUSE, A HOME (POEM)

Lorraine M Halli

➤ SUMMARY

A house and a home are not the same thing. They differ in many ways. A house is just a set of rooms made of brick and stone, wood and glass. It has an open ground, tile floors, cement, plaster on the walls, windows and doors. But it is a lifeless structure.

A home is a living unit. It means a family, a set of members. It has parents and children. They are bonded with ties of love and respect. They take care of each other. They share each other's joy and sorrow. They work selflessly and co-operate to meet their basic needs.

Stanza 1

What is a house?

It's brick and stone
and wood that's hard.

Some window glass
and perhaps a yard.

It's eaves and chimneys
and tile floors
and stucco and roof
and lots of doors.

Explanation

In this stanza, the poet is explaining the ingredients or materials used to make a house. The poet says that bricks, stone and wood are used to make a house. It also has window glass and corridors or open space in front and back of the house for gardening. Tiles of the floor, fine paints, roof, elevations of the roof and many doors that give it a perfect look of a house. Thus, a house is a completely non-living thing.

Stanza 2

What is a home?

It's loving and family
and doing for others.

It's brothers and sisters and fathers and mothers.

It's unselfish acts and kindly sharing and showing your loved ones;

you're always caring

Explanation

Here, the poet has explained the nature of a home and what makes a house- a home. It is the family members- brothers-sisters, mothers-fathers who together make a home. Their acts without any selfish interest, their concern for each other, their wish to work for each others' happiness and well-being. Their wish to show love and care towards each other is what makes a house - a home.
